Among other evidences of the early and immediate approach of spring is the fact that already the birds are forming their nests. Mr. H. L. Owens of Beaver Lake reports that in the beginning of the week he found a bird's nest with three eggs in.

LICENSE Inspector PURCHES and J. C. F. BOWN returned from Wetaskiwin yesterday. The former had been down to lay a complaint against J. At the Presbytery annual meeting held lately in Calgary, the Rev. D. G. McQueen was appointed one of the commissioners to the general assembly, which meets in London, Ont., in June next. It was decided to hold the next regular meeting of the Presbytery in Edmonton on Monday, Sept. 2nd.

A MEETING was held at St. Albert, and a liberal conservative association formed. President H. W. McKenney. There were two vice-presidents chosen from outlying districts. G. W. Gardiner, secretary and treasurer. The meeting decided to make no resolutions until it was known who the conservatives would place in the field.

Robertson, car of machinery for Massey-Harris Co., car of implements for Hutton, car of implements for Dickson, 2 cars of merchandise for various parties.

In a letter from Sully County, South Dakota, is the following: "I am disgusted with Dakota and have decided to return back to Canada my native land. My wheat last year yielded 3½ bushels per acre, oats 13 bushels, and the corn and potatoes a complete failure. All the Canadians want to leave here and return back to Canada."

The Brackman & Ker Milling Co., as will be seen by their advertisement, have decided to erect an oatmeal mill and elevator at South Edmonton. It is unfortunate that Edmonton could not have offered better shipping facilities as the larger city would have been preferred in regard to site but this is an important factor in an industry of this kind. Construction will be proceeded with on receipt of plans. T. W. Lines has been admitted into the firm and will manage at this point. They will place a buyer in Edmonton for the coming season.

F. OLIVER in his campaign south addressed large audiences at Lethbridge, Macleod and Calgary. Mr. Magrath, in introducing Mr. Oliver at Lethbridge, said he had known Mr. Oliver for a number of years, had sat with him in the legislative assembly for four years, and it gave him pleasure to introduce Mr. Oliver to a Lethbridge audience. He could say of him that he was a man—a man in every sense of the word. At Macleod the hall was crowded. Mr. Oliver's address was listened to with appreciation by men of all shades of political opinion.

J. A. SENECA, of St. Boniface, Man., contractor and builder, now in charge of the construction of the Edmonton hospital, has been visiting last week the Stony Plain quarry, the property of Messrs. Lamoureux, Degagne and Casson, and is much satisfied with the result of his inspection. The quarry is situated in township 51, range 2, west of the 5th meridian on the banks of the Saskatchewan river, at a distance of 45 miles from Edmonton. It can be worked very easily and at a small expense. The lime stone is of a quality, in the opinion of Seneca, superior to that of Calgary, for the purpose of building. The stone presents many advantages for all kind of constructions of any dimensions. Mr. Casson is starting at once to build and work a lime kiln and cut dimension stone from the quarry.

We have received the first number of La Revue Nationale. It is a magazine that will be published monthly in Montreal under the directorship of Capt. J. D. Chartrand. He introduces the magazine with a remark that he will in preference call on the young talent of Canada for articles, who will be remunerated in a liberal manner for the same. He will treat with educational and religious questions, studied with care by competent writers, these will hold a place of honor in the column. The present number has the photos of the following well known men: Hon. J. A. Chapleau, Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. G. A. Nantel, Hon. F. G. Merland, C. Beausoleil, L. O. David, J. X. Perrault, Hon. J. Royal, L. H. Ferchette, Dr. W. H. Hingston, B. Sulte, J. Hogue, J. Marmette, Capt. Chartrand and A. Danseur. La Revue Nationale, Montreal.

THE INDEPENDENT HERALD.
The independent conservative organ of Calgary, feeling a little independent now, probably with such a lot of money to back it up, has got its staff so used to picking up capital C's or Co.—with a capital, that the boys have applied to have the letters in the cases changed. It is now after big game. The independent organ has attacked the lieutenant governor. The charge is, that on his late visit to Alberta, he came to promote the candidature of Mr. Haultain. His Honor has seen fit to reply which may be seen in another column.

CHEAP CROSSING.
The committee appointed from the town council to fix a tariff on ferries for the coming season, met last night in the council chamber. Messrs. Humberstone, Walters and Dinner were also present. The resolution adopted was, that the following changes be made in the previous tariff: Double teams for single crossing, 10c. Or both ways, 15c. Single horse and rig, 5c. Horse and rider, 5c.

For crossing coal, sand, stone, etc., or on Sundays, the usual rates to be charged, with the exception of clergymen who are to be crossed free on Sundays. The ferry-men were requested to make application at once for license under the revised tariff.

AN INQUEST HELD.
The coroner, Dr. McInnis, received a telegram on Monday night to have an examination made on the Smith Bros. who were found dead in their house on Sucker Island. Drs. McInnis and Braithwaite held a post mortem examination and the verdict given was that there was no signs of any contagious or infectious disease. The cause of death was not given, as there was no indication to show on examination what was the cause. A very slight indication of pleurisy was found and poor lungs, but not sufficient to cause death. The doctors state they were much enamored, more so than any cases ever coming under their notice before. That would go to show they have not been in a healthy state for some time. The deceased men were well known in Calgary. David was a plumber and Robert a carpenter by trade. They had property south of Calgary. They came there from Montreal, after the death of a brother who was an ex-mounted policeman, named William, well known as "Big" Bill Smith. They also had a sister who was a school teacher in Calgary. She went east last fall. They had money and were known in Calgary as quiet young fellows of a careful and economical disposition. The remains were sent to Calgary on Tuesday's train.

Edmonton Farmers . .

Our Company have decided to erect during the coming summer an Oat Meal Mill and Elevator at South Edmonton. We would therefore call the attention of the Farmers to the importance of raising the best varieties of oats suitable for milling and for which the highest market price will be paid. We shall also require a limited quantity of choice Two-rowed Barley. We had made arrangements for making a shipment from the coast but find the same unnecessary as the best varieties can be secured from T. W. Lines, Edmonton.

FRANK OLIVER, — PROPRIETOR.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, MARCH 21st, 1895.

ELECTION ADDRESS.

To the electors of Alberta.

GENTLEMEN.—As the nominee of the convention of Alberta liberals which was held recently at Calgary, and having been assured of a strong support by the patrons of industry in Northern Alberta, as well as at the solicitation of a large number of independent conservatives in this part of the country, I have the honor to offer myself as a candidate for the representation of Alberta in the Commons at the approaching general election. The stand which I take with the full knowledge and consent of those who have tendered me their support is that of an independent as to party, but not as to principle. On the main question at present at issue between the liberal and conservative parties, I understand that the organizations and individuals tendering me their support have done so with the wish and expectation that I would and will so far as lies in my power support the policy of a tariff for revenue as against the policy of a tariff for protection, which is the declared policy of the present government; on the ground that the protective policy discriminates unjustly against the western producer in favor of the eastern manufacturer.

Although holding strongly with the liberal party and also the patron organization on this point, I have not bound myself to either of these because I believe that the first duty of the single representative of so great a country holding such great possibilities as this district of Alberta should be to use his every energy for the further development of this country and the realization of these possibilities; as he can not if he is to be subject to restraint by the exigencies of any party. This constituency has had party representation during the past eight years,—has been represented by a member of the party in power then and now. If the results have been satisfactory, that principle should be continued. If not it should be changed. It is because I believe that this system of party representation has been gravely injurious to this district that I have consented to make the personal sacrifice involved in my candidature, and because, so far as I knew, no other person was likely to come forward to advocate these or like views.

In a region so vast and varied as Alberta it would be impossible for any man at any time to define all the points of policy that would affect each locality, therefore I do not attempt to do so here. I hope from time to time, however, in the course of the contest, to have the opportunity to discuss fully with the electors at most of the principal centres of population, all matters that may come up for discussion, in whatever shape they may appear. That such a vast region, having such a large population and such important interests should be accorded only one representative is as plain a case of injustice as is required to show the glaring failure of party representation to secure the people in even their simplest rights. The matter of railway extension and railway rates particularly in the north and the question of irrigation in the south seem to be the great questions affecting the interests of the district with which parliament will from time to time have to deal. I need not point out that while these are vital questions to Alberta, they are not party questions at all, and it is all the more necessary that your representative should be in a position to advocate your interests in regard to them in parliament without party hindrance even if he has to do it without party support.

Speaking generally I may say that I will support a policy of development for Alberta and while I will not bind myself to ask for favors for any section or interest I will bind myself to do all in my power to see that each section and every interest receives fair and equal treatment.

In conclusion I will say that although I have no personal interest to serve or ambition to gratify by entering upon this contest, yet having entered upon it in good faith I shall do all I can to win, and ask for the active assistance of every man who believes that the success of the principles which I have been selected to advocate would be in the interest of this constituency and of the country.

Respectfully Yours,

FRANK OLIVER.

EDMONTON, March 4th, 1895.

THE C. P. R. VIEW.

To the Editor: Sir Donald A. Smith has returned to Canada, and being interviewed has delivered his opinions as follows, according to the Mail and Empire—but before copying them verbatim be it known that the parentheticals are those of the writer and not of the knight:

"Sir Donald Smith, M. P. for Montreal West and president of the Bank of Montreal, returned to-day from England, he is in the best of health. (Perhaps he unloaded.) Sir Donald had something to say of the financial situation, and he emphasized the necessity for retrenchment in the present condition of affairs (to allow the spoil to accumulate against future operations.) He also expressed the opinion that such schemes as the Armstrong do the country a great deal of harm. (He did not say that about the Canadian Pacific after himself and associates had got hold of the St. P., M. & M. stock.) Let us face the fact that it is retrenchment that is needed (and the better your pockets are lined beforehand the greater will be the equanimity of the person facing) that the great need is strong business sense (combined with the powers of acquisition), which will frown upon schemes (the C. P. R. excepted) which in the nature of things can never pay (the C. P. R.) This particular scheme will not come to anything (if I can help it.) But this and others of a similar character do great injury to this country (and to the C. P. R.) Certain parties without means of their own

(observe how far did his means go to build the C. P. R.?) attempt to launch certain schemes (hostile he thinks to the C. P. R. but actually not so), which the country does not want (not true; the country does), for which there is no field (that the C. P. R. would not occupy to the detriment of the public interest at a later date). The promoters manage, whatever the fate of their schemes to make something out of them (unfortunately not true), but they do incalculable injury to the country. (He denies this point blank further on). Do the railways which now exist not supply all the present want? (Most decidedly they do not in British Columbia.) We (the C. P. R. I have most in mind) are passing through a period of depression; every interest has felt the pinch. The Canadian Pacific railway (and I too) feel the tightness of the times. Relatively, however, I will say, added Sir Donald, that the Canadian Pacific is well off (owns the whole of the N. W. T. in prospect, reserved by order-in-council.) Consider the position of the great railways of the United States, with the backing of the great capitalists of the world (but not quite so much government backing as we have got). Look how many of them are in the hands of receivers (how much preference and how much ordinary stock have you got?) Look at the Northern Pacific and the Union Pacific. (They have no mountain tops called after presidents or directors of the road.) I say relatively the Canadian Pacific is well off (asked for land enough to accommodate a population of 25,000,000 people now and more to be reserved by order-in-council, and got it). I was absent when the reductions were made (but I knew all about it just the same), and I know that each person feels that an injustice has been done him when he is made to suffer. He is not naturally able to look upon the broad features of the situation (with as broad a grin as a man who has successfully unloaded). But I understand that the utmost care was taken by M. Shaughnessy to make the hardship fall as light as possible. (It was done in Arkansas years ago by a man who made his economical reputation by it). That is to say, as far as possible new men were dismissed and old servants, those who had given long and efficient service (and were well posted) were retained, which is proper principle (nothing like blowing one's own trumpet in emergencies). But is this not what you or I would have done in our private business in the economy of our households? A man who has a comfortable income and keeps a dozen domestics (Dives) will not retain the services of such (Lazari) if that income be seriously diminished, and if it still shrinks he must accommodate his household to the (sack and the altered conditions of things. The great need is retrenchment in all departments of individual and national life (except the C. P. R. freight rates), and frowning down upon the schemes which demand the money of the English capitalist (before we have time to scoop it in) and which can never come to anything practical (when the C. P. R. are not in it). Canada has suffered from this in reputation already (mark the contradiction following). She stands better in the London market than the other colonies, and you saw how her loan was taken up recently. (The Great Northern Railway stock is very good, is it not? And they are coming direct to Victoria: not the C. P. R. in disguise of course). There is plenty of money when once you are able to establish confidence (nothing like confidence) in your securities (as we did with the C. P. R. while credit was sinking for confidence (and government backing) is the basis, the soul of all business. The country (and the C. P. R.) does not at present need any more large schemes involving enormous outlays of money. (It would not for some time if the C. P. R. had been located where nature indicated) Let us use such enterprises as we have at present and do our utmost to make them prosperous and permanent (especially the C. P. R.—personification of selfishness). Take the case of New Zealand among the colonies. She got money easily. (She built no C. P. R.) She suffered as every country must suffer which behaves as she did. But when she saw the consequences of her extravagance (and that she had not granted the best part of the public domain to a railway company and reserved the rest to it by order-in-council) she at once retrenched, and when the Australian crash came she stood firm. That colony constitutes a lesson for Canadians. (But not more than Canada and the C. P. R. do to New Zealand.) In this connection one might ask if the C. P. R. would "frown down" a hundred million dollar canal scheme to ship direct from Fort William to Liverpool.)

POLITICAL NOTES.

Sir Donald A. Smith announced his acceptance of the proposed nomination of the conservative party for the St. Antoine district.

There is another interesting piece of political news now for the first time made public in connection with the formation of a new ministry following the late election. That is, that Mr. Davin, in lieu of a position in the cabinet, was offered the lieutenant governorship of the Northwest Territories and refused it.—Toronto News.

The Regina Standard—quoting statutes—chapter 22, section 6, of 1891 provides that "whenever a vacancy occurs by reason of death, resignation or otherwise, of an elected member, the lieutenant governor shall cause a writ or writs of election, as the case may be, to be issued by the clerk of the legislative assembly, in such form and to such returning officer or officers as he approves of." Although this section does not specifically state to whom the resignation should be addressed, it is quite clear that the lieutenant governor must be cognizant of it before he can proceed to have the vacancy filled. A reasonable inference therefore is that the resignation should be tendered to His Honor. If the section quoted means anything it surely means that a vacancy by resignation can take place. The case of Mr. Lucas was not at all analogous to this one. He could not resign because his election was and is still pending.

The Free Press on the political question in Alberta speaking of the meeting in Macleod, says: Considerable excitement prevails here over the coming elections for the Dominion house. Oliver, of Edmonton, is a strong man for the Liberal party, as was proved last night when he addressed the electors here in Ginge's hall and invited public discussion. The meeting was undoubtedly in sympathy with Oliver. The Conservative party are losing ground by not having a man definitely in the field. At present it is impossible to say who is going to run—Haultain, Davis or Cochrane. If all three—which is very improbable—or any two enter the contest, it will be a walkover for Oliver. The general impression is that the Liberal candidate will be elected, if he is opposed even by any one of the Conservative party. A great many Conservatives will vote against their party at the coming election owing to the attitude of the government of late towards territorial affairs. The reduction of the police alone and the method employed in carrying it out, will undoubtedly result in hundreds of votes being polled for the Liberal party, that the government might before have retained. The government's action, or want of action, in regard to the extension of the C. P. R. from Calgary to Edmonton and from Calgary to Macleod is severely condemned and that alone would naturally help to throw the Conservative party out in this constituency. Another rope that dangles dangerously around the neck of the Conservative party, is woven by the partiality adduced to Mormon settlers, over Gentiles. A strong opinion is prevalent that the Mormon settlement immediately south of Macleod will ere long develop into a political fester and immoral cancer that years of penitence will not eradicate. And these people receive encouragement from the government that years of residence and multitudinous petitions would not avail the Gentiles. The N. P. again, particularly so far as the Territories is concerned, is a farce. Seventeen years experience of it has but plunged the Dominion deeper into the depths of financial distress. "It has been weighed in the balance and found wanting." It will be found "wanting," or rather not found at all at the next election, is the opinion of a good many patient souls, who for years have suffered under the government's actions and hoping on and on for a lessening of the burden have cried, "How long; O Lord, how long!"

COCHRANE TACTICS.

The scheme for getting Cochrane nominated by a representative convention apparently planned by his energetic agent, T. W. Jackson, was too apparent to mislead even the inmates of an idiot asylum. Cochrane had the "bar" with which he boasted when into parliament, at least so he boasted when he was at Macleod this winter. Now given the "bar" and the willingness to let it drain itself pretty freely, it is not very difficult to find willing workers and Mr. Cochrane apparently found them. Of course we do not insinuate for one moment that such high-minded gentlemen as Senator Loughheed and T. W. Jackson, or such noble representatives of the free and independent press of Alberta as the Herald and Tribune would be actuated or influenced by pecuniary motives. They organized (before the convention) in Cochrane's support because they conscientiously believed that his talents and his "bar"—(Hang it, we didn't mean "bar") and his—well, noted accomplishments as a politician (see Lethbridge letter) marked him as the man of all others among Alberta Conservatives best able to lead the Tory banner to victory. The Herald of course didn't mean it when, only a short time before, it poked fun at Cochrane, and ridiculed him as a candidate. Funny what a few dollars will do with some free and independent newspapers. The Tribune, in its neatly-mouthed way, sat on the fence and waited for—well its judgment on Cochrane's real merits to become matured. Entre nous, the Herald and Tribune might give the Gazette a hint as about what are the newspapers—the live ones—are fetching just now. Well to return to the scheme. Calgary, or rather some of it, said: "we'll have a Conservative convention, and will allow five delegates from each electoral district, and one delegate for every twenty members of every Conservative association in Alberta. No outside districts were consulted and when they did protest as soon as they could after they knew anything about it, they were practically told to mind their own business, and blackguarded for attempting to interfere with the arrangements. So immediate steps were taken for the organization of Conservative associations, and outside of perhaps three or four, they were all in the Calgary district. Outsiders knew at the time that the intention was to pack the convention for Cochrane, and the meeting last Friday proved that that was the case. The north and south wanted the convention on the 20th and only five or ten delegates from each electoral district. They would even have agreed to the 13th, but submit to delegates from Conservative associations which had been all organized beforehand by the Cochrane wire pullers they would not. Calgary Cochrane men thought they could ignore the north and the south, and refused to listen to earnest protest from all parts of the constituency. Hence the split. The Cochrane convention (be it understood respectable Conservatives in the north and south repudiate that convention) represented only Calgary and district. On Wednesday next the real Conservative convention will meet at Calgary and it will be made up of ten delegates each from every electoral district in Alberta. Loughheed and Jackson may as well understand that they have got a whole lot more to contend with than a few disaffected Conservatives. The present situation represents the whole of Alberta and part of Calgary vs. that portion of Calgary called the Boo—Cochrane brigade. In the language of the poet we might say to Loughheed, and the same will apply to Jackson, "Don't be an ostrich."—Macleod Gazette.

LIEUT. GOVERNOR AT QU'APPELLE.
Entertained by the citizens; a banquet tendered him by the agricultural society. After the president proposed His Honor's health, he replied at some length. He spoke of the agricultural advantages of the district, advised mixed farming, the building of creameries, cheese factories and poultry yards. He would say to the farmers of the Northwest, to those of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Assiniboia, "Up and at them!" He thanked the society for the generous attention they had given to the proposed prize list for the Territorial exhibition. At Qu'Appelle station, he addressed a crowded hall of ladies and gentlemen. After discussing at some length His Honor on conclusion said that before closing he deemed it only right to refer to an attack made upon him in a Calgary newspaper, having only that day seen it. The statement was that he visited Alberta to promote Mr. Haultain's candidature for that district. There was not a breath of truth in the assertion; he had neither spoken to Mr. Haultain upon the subject nor had Mr. Haultain spoken to him. His Honor, in conclusion, said: "I mention this, ladies and gentlemen, not because it affects me personally, but because such tactics tend to weaken my usefulness throughout the territories. I have known neither liberals nor conservatives as such, and have endeavored to adjust the balance evenly, fairly and constitutionally, and all who patriotically desire to promote the progress of the country should condemn conduct such as that referred to. The only redeeming feature about the matter is, that it must have emanated from a blackguard; certainly, no gentleman would countenance such tactics. (Applause.) This you can rely upon, that while administering the affairs of this great country as lieutenant governor, I will, at all times and on all occasions, seek to follow, at however humble a distance, the footsteps of those whose wisdom gave stability and permanence to the principles of constitutional government." (Applause.)

GENERAL NEWS.
Chief Justice Meredith sentenced both John D. Hendershott and Wm. D. Welter to be hanged on June 18th next, for the murder of Wm. H. Hendershott on Dec. 11th last.

Some 1600 of the Chinese attacked the Japanese out posts at Chinlo near the border of Korea. They were repulsed with heavy loss and pursued. Another Chinese force, 1000 strong, made an attack on the Japanese rear and left flank, but were repulsed with 70 killed. The Japanese loss was six wounded.

Some suggestions for the prevention of prairie fires, made by Professor Macoun, naturalist, of the Dominion geological department. "Along the lines of railway, proper fire-guards would do much towards prevention, but rigid rules holding section-men responsible for all fires along the lines of railways would do more. Section men should be required by law to burn during the first week in July all the grass between the railway and the fire guard, or as soon thereafter as the dryness of the grass will permit, and afterwards proceed to any smoke that may be seen rising near the railway within the limits of their section. Some simple plan like this would prevent nearly all the fires that constantly occur along the Canadian Pacific and other railways, as nearly all the fires set by the engines occur in the afternoon and could be reported at the first section house by the conductor of the train that either started the fire or saw it."

METEOROLOGICAL.
The following temperatures are reported from the Dominion government observatory, Edmonton, for the dates given:
